Ritacca Laser & Cosmetic Surgery Center Offer Topical Hyaluronic Acid, Breakthrough Technology for Lines and Wrinkles

Vernon Hills, IL (April 27, 2011) – Ritacca Laser & Cosmetic Surgery Center now offer topical hyaluronic acid (HA), Bionect®. Ritacca Laser & Cosmetic Surgery Center provides cutting-edge aesthetic treatments and surgical procedures and is known to be on the forefront of aesthetic medicine and cosmetic surgery industry in Illinois.

Hyaluronic acid is a substance naturally found in our bodies, it is found in the highest concentrate in fluids in the eyes and joints. Hyaluronic acid is commonly injected into areas of the folds of the face, temples and lips to add volume with products that contain hyaluronic acid such as; Restylane and Juvederm. There is a large interest and following in using hyaluronic acid to prevent the effects of aging. In fact, HA has been touted as a "fountain of youth."

Bionect® is gentle and non-allergenic...all patients should be using it for healing and to help plump fine lines and wrinkles of the face," says Dawn Davidson, Registered Nurse at Ritacca Laser & Cosmetic Surgery Center.

By applying Bionect® topical cream in conjunction with hyaluronic acid injections, dramatic results will be seen from patient to patient by providing maximum hydration and stimulation of the cells. Bionect® is available by prescription only.

In clinical studies, topically applied hyaluronic acid appears to be helpful in healing a variety of treatment-induced skin breakdowns. HA has been used in place of aggressive steroids for inflammation. Topical hyaluronic acid also aids in the healing of the skin from laser and light energy treatments and aggressive laser resurfacing treatments.

The Ritacca Laser Center is a full-service medical spa and cosmetic surgery center that offers the latest in aesthetic medicine and plastic surgery today including; laser hair removal, photofacials, Artefill, skin tightening, sclerotherapy, BOTOX®, fillers and more. Our use of state-of-the-art lasers, individualized surgical solutions, and the safest medical techniques gives us a leading edge in providing total patient satisfaction and a total commitment toward excellence.
